4. Several details did fatigue duty. The troops wore black-bordered crimson epaulets. The tank ditch in the south section of the installation was being lengthened by about 30 meters and deepened to about 1.5 meters. The mound along the ditch was brought to a height of about 3.5 meters. The mound at the west end of the ditch was also being heightened and braced by a board wall. a new training ground was being built south of the installation toward Kleine Heide. The area was being cleared and foxholes, 3 x 3 meters and 3 x 4 meters and 1.5 meters deep, and trench positions were being dug out. The inside walls of the trenches were being boarded and supported by props. At midnight on 22 November, a JS-2 tank entered the installation from the direction of the railroad station.
